Title: A Clever Dog

Yesterday I was sleeping when I suddenly felt my dog licking me. I woke up and started to breath in breaths of smoke. As I sat up and looked around my room, I instantly started to panic. My fan was on fire!

I screamed at the top of my lungs, jumped out of bed and grabbed my dog, Mona. But by the time I had reached the door the fire had already burned my whole room to crisp! I ran into my parents' room and dragged my parents outside of the building. My parents realized that the house was burning and instantly called the fire department.

We did not have to wait long until we saw blue and red flashing sirens. My parents and I shouted with glee when the fire fighters rrived. I had never been so relieved in my life.

After the fire fighters dealt with the fire. The chief fire fighter told us that he was going to move us to a different flat for a couple months just to ensure our safety. My parents gleefully thanked him for his kindness. We stayed in a hotel that night. In the morning, we were shown our new gorgeous flat!

Title: Betty's bad day

Today was Betty's bad day. Betty and her classmate Sue were walking to school. Suddenly, a dog ran to Betty and almost bit her. Betty and her classmate were so scared and ran to school thinking the dog was chasing them all long.

After school, there was a heavy rain outside. Luckily, Betty had an umbrella in her bag. However, she didn't get so lucky. Immediately after she opened her umbrella, the bus drove through a big puddle and splashed on Betty's clothes. She was afraid she would not be able to go to the party at school tomorrow.

When Betty was about to sleep, she felt a little unwell. She went to her mom's bedroom and her mom said, "Oh no! You have a cold."

After Betty felt a little better, she drifted to sleep. However, she got a nightmare when she fell asleep. Today was Betty's worst day ever.

Title: Betty's bad day

Yesterday was Betty's bad day. Betty and her classmate April were walking to school. Suddenly a dog came to them and barked loudly and could not stop chasing them. Betty and April ran to school as fast as they could and class started.

After school, it was raining outside so Betty took an umbrella. While she was walking back home, she felt okay. Suddenly, a bus was driving by. It drove through a puddle and splashed on Betty's uniform.

When Betty got home, she felt sick. Then her mum said to her, "What happened, Betty?" "I feel sick, Mum!" Betty replied. Then Betty went to bed to rest. Betty's mum touched her forehead. Her mum was immediately shocked! She said, "Oh no, you have a fever. Let me quickly get you to the doctor!" When Betty's mum ran to the hospital, she immediately told the doctor what happened.

Finally, the doctor gave her some medicine.

Title: A little lost boy

Sam and his mum went to buy some presents for Christmas. They went to a department store. Sam was waiting for his mum to try out a blouse. His mum was very excited.

Sam was bored, so he went away to the toys store. After his mum changed her blouse, she didn't see Sam in the clothing store. She was anxious. She walked around to find her son.

Outside the clothing store, Sam's mum saw a security guard. She asked 'My son is lost! Can you help me find my son?' 'Of course.' said the security guard. They searched all around the shops. Finally, they found Sam in the toys store. At last, they bought a toy for Sam and a blouse for his mum.

I had a strange dream last night. I dreamt that I wanted the cinema and watched a movie, but I had no money. So I decided to go to the park. I was walking around and saw an old scratched teddy bear. I felt sad seeing that someone or something had done that to a harmless teddy bear, so I grabbed it and walked back home.

I got back home and decided to keep the teddy bear and raise it like my own. I wanted to give the teddy bear a name. I decided to call it 'Strawberry Milk' because I like strawberry milk and the teddy bear. I said, 'Hello, Strawberry Milk! Welcome to my world.' I cleaned Strawberry Milk off and made a cute little pink and white striped jacket for it.

The next day, I woke up and screamed, seeing that Strawberry Milk was talking. Strawberry Milk said, 'Good Morning! Thank you for helping me at the park. Wait a minute!' Strawberry Milk walked out into the kitchen. I followed it. I was shocked seeing Strawberry Milk making breakfast for me. Strawberry Milk saw me and said, 'Ah, you came just in time for breakfast, sit down on the chair. I made breakfast.' Strawberry Milk climbed onto the table and served breakfast. It was so good. After warming the food, Strawberry Milk prepared for me, I started asking questions left and right like: How are you talking and how did you make breakfast. Strawberry Milk started explaining, 'I was a normal teddy bear from a local toy shop. Then someone tripped and poured some weird liquid on me and then I could talk and move. I was shocked by my new abilities, so I walked out of the store and walked into a nearby park. Then suddenly, a cat jumped out of the bushes and scratched me from head to toe. 'So that's why you were scratched up when I found you.' I said. 'Yep, that's why.' Strawberry Milk sighed. I was shocked when she said that. Then, I woke up from my dream. I wish I would have gotten to know her a little more.

Weather: Cloudy ( rainy too )

I had a strange dream last night. I was walking in a park. I walked across a flower field. Then, I walked on a path. While I was walking, I saw a small teddy. It was dirty, but it looked lovely.

I walked towards it and picked it up. I went back home, washed it with warm water and scrubbed it. Then I dried it with a blow dryer. I said to the teddy, 'Wow, you are so cute! I wonder why someone would abandon a lovely teddy like you in the park. Wait! I should give you a name. I'll call you Chocolate.' Then I made a T-shirt for the now very clean and fluffy teddy.

I put it on my bed, said my goodnights to my new teddy bear, and I fell asleep.

I woke up to some whispering sounds, so I opened my eyes. I sat up. 'Hello! As you named me, I am Chocolate! I also want to say thank you!' I was confused, so I asked, 'Wait a minute! You could talk?' Chocolate replied. 'Yes, I can!' Then I grinned and said, 'A talking teddy? Wow! Chocolate, you are very cool!' I changed my clothes and started to make breakfast.

While I was making breakfast, I asked, 'Why can you talk like a real human? Are you a teddy life form or something else?' Chocolate explained, saying, 'I use to stay in a toy shop. One day, someone bought me and took me to an abandoned toy factory. He poured some strange liquid that smelled like poppies. Then I became alive and started to move, so the person let me go. I ran out of the abandoned factory. I accidentally ran into a car, so I got dirty.'

I woke up and saw Chocolate. 'Wait, aren't you the teddy bear from my dreams?' I asked. She replied, 'Oh, so you know me. Then let's make breakfast!' So I lived with my new talking teddy, Chocolate.

Weather: Cloudy

I had a strange dream last night. The dream started when I was going to the park. I saw a dirty but lively teddy bear on the grass. It looked poor, so I brought it back home happily.

After we were back home, first I bathed my teddy bear with care. Then, I gave it a name – Teddy Tommy. Then I said joyfully, ‘Hi, Teddy Tommy! I will take care of you forever!’ After the bath, I made it a jacket and I could tell that it was so happy.

However, the next day when I woke up, I got surprised by Teddy Tommy. It said to me, ‘Good morning, Ann. I am the wizard Dumbledore.’ Ann screamed, ‘Ah! A teddy bear can talk! Wait...you said you are Dumbledore? The wizard in Harry Potter?’ Dumbledore suddenly changed his look back to a human with a wizard hat on his head. He said, ‘Ann, you are a witch, girl!’ Ann said, ‘I...I am a witch?’ Dumbledore said, ‘Yes, you are a Hogwarts student and I am here to deliver your witch hat and wand.’

Crash! Ann’s mom said, ‘No way! I broke another plate again!’ Ann woke up and said, ‘Oh! It was just a dream, but a great one.’ Ann smiled and looked at her Harry Potter novels on the bookshelf.

It was a very fine Christmas morning. The snow was as white as it had ever been. Sam and his mother Jessica were at Central Park walking excitedly to the mall to discuss what Jessica should wear for Christmas. Half an hour later, they reached the mall and were heading to Zara. Jessica was very excited but didn't feel the same. When they got to Zara, Jessica just ran through like a child in a candy store and it took another 5 minutes to find her. Then Sam shouted, "Mom, stop running so fast... I can't catch up!" Then Jessica stopped and went to try out some clothes she picked. While she was changing Sam thought to himself, "I think it would be fine that I just go to the toy shop for a little while." So then he ran to the toy shop, excitedly but quietly.

Half an hour later, Jessica walked out wearing a long sleeved tank top with a snowman on it and a pair of ripped jeans. She asked without noticing that Sam had already gone, "What do you think about this outfit?" Suddenly she realized that he had gone! Jessica looked around the shop anxiously. She regretted that she did not pay enough attention to him. She thought to herself, "What should I do now...What should I do now!" For a moment something caught her mind.

Jessica found a security guard and cried, "Excuse me, sir! Have you seen my son?" The security guard said in a calm voice, "Don't worry, madam. What does your son look like?" Shivering, Jessica replied, "Well, he has raven hair and a dragon T-shirt." "I think that seems familiar!" Said the security guard. Then, he took Jessica to the toy shop. Finally, she saw a familiar face! She ran to Sam and hugged him with all her might. Sam hugged her back in joy.

I had a strange dream last night. In my dream, I was walking through a park. Unexpectedly, I saw an adorable teddy bear on the grass just next to me. I picked it up and brought it home because I liked it very much. I couldn't hide my joy.

When I got home, I cleaned the teddy bear thoroughly and gave him the name Tommy. "Hi, Teddy Tommy!" I talked to him happily. Next, I made a long jacket with a striped pattern for him. Next, I put him on my bed.

When I woke up the next day, I heard a soft voice. It was Tommy! My eyes popped out in surprise. "Good morning. I am happy that you made a jacket for me but it is a bit tight."

Therefore, I make a new blue jacket for him. After that, he felt better and we chatted cheerfully. Suddenly, I heard a bell ring. I woke up from the dream and Tommy in his blue jacket was just next to me!

Title: Fun Turns to Danger

Fun Turns to Danger

Johnny went on a field trip with his class last Friday. It was a very tragic experience.

It was Friday and Johnny's teacher, Mrs. Cheese, brought Johnny and his classmates to Kadoorie Farm for a project. Once they arrived, a cheerful looking tour guide greeted them at the entrance. He introduced himself, "Hello! My name is Milo, but you can call me Mr. Lo!" The students grinned happily and Mrs. Cheese smiled and said, "Wonderful! I'm Mrs. Cheese. Now let's get the tour started!"

First, Mr. Lo guided them to a greenhouse. He showed the class some fruits and vegetables. "Children, these fruits are fresh. In fact, we're going to pick some right now!" He spoke. Everyone cheered and got to work. Johnny put on a pair of plastic gloves and started picking strawberries off bushes. He tried one and instantly fell in love with it. His classmates saw him and tried the fruits that they picked as well. Johnny's classmate, Annie, gushed, "Oh my! These are the best blueberries I've ever tasted!" Mr. Lo chuckled and said, "Haha! Thank you for the compliment! We will move on to the next part of the farm."

Mr. Lo led them to an area filled with adorable farm animals. He said, "Welcome to the animal section!" There were a few plump pigs snorting with other pigs, ducks and swans swimming happily in the pond, and a group of turtles sunbathing on rocks. Johnny observed the ducks as his classmates wandered around and squealed at the cuteness of the animals.

Later, it was lunch time and Mrs. Cheese bought the children lunch. After lunch, they rested for a while, then the class's naughty boy Jamey got a mischievous plan. He picked a stick and walked towards a beehive, he put the stick inside the beehive and poked around. Bees flew out angrily and attacked the class. Jamey was really scared and ran away. Mrs. Cheese was startled and guided the class out.

Mr. Lo rushed to help them. He was furious at Jamey for doing that and banned him from ever visiting this farm again. He said, "I am very disappointed in you. Your class could've gotten hurt!" Johnny looked on with his classmates. It was a fun day but Jamey ruined it! What a bad day!

Title: A Careless Robber

A Careless Robber

Last night, Mrs. Chan finished work late. On the way back home at around ten o'clock, she walked into a park. The park was dark and Mrs. Chan felt scared because there was no one in the park.

Suddenly, a man wearing a neon blue shirt, ripped jeans and an eye mask approached Mrs. Chan. "Give me your money!" The robber yelled out. Mrs. Chan gulped and handed her wallet to the robber. The robber smirked and let out a chuckle before turning around and taking a few steps toward Mrs. Chan.

Then he stopped and turned around slowly. "And your bag. I want your bag." Mrs. Chan quietly put her bag in front of the robber. He snatched it and started running. He ran to a bench and sat down to catch his breath and check Mrs. Chan's bag. Pulling everything out, he carefully examined a very expensive watch he had stolen thirty minutes ago. He then shot his head up after hearing some sirens.

Immediately the robber started running, he took out his mobile phone and started dialing someone's number. Getting distracted, he did not notice a pole in front of him. "Yo! I robbed another per-." Before he could continue, he had bumped into the lamp post. He fell onto the floor before the police arrived. Mrs. Chan ran to the unconscious robber and screamed. His head was bleeding. She grabbed her phone and called the police and ambulance.

Once the police came, Mrs. Chan went home and went to bed. In the morning while she was watching the news, she saw that the robber was arrested after receiving medical treatment.
