Title: Ann and the treasure box

Today, Ann and her friends went to the beach. They built a giant sandcastle near the sea. They felt happy.

Suddenly they saw something floating in the sea coming towards them so they swam towards it and dragged it to the sand.

When it reached the sand, they were amazed. 'It is a treasure box,' Ann shouted. They carried it near the sandcastle and dropped it.

And when they were trying to open it, they realized that they needed a key, so they went looking for it in the sea. Ann found a crab and on top of the crab, they found the key. When they opened the treasure box, there was so much gold, so they took it to the museum and they sold it for a hundred million dollars. They were shocked and they went back home with all the money.
