Title: An Unforgettable Day

Last weekend, my family and I went hiking at Crystal Peak, known for its crystal clear lakes and its beautiful scenery. The old people say if you drink its water, you will stay young for 3 years, but if you swim in it, you will become an angel. Since the water was so “magical,” it was forbidden to even touch it.

Of course, I didn’t really believe it. We just went up the mountain, taking pictures along the way. My little sister, Sue, wanted to see these lakes. Since my mom was an artist, she took some pictures for references.

Soon, we saw a flower garden. There were swarms of butterflies. My dad took a lot of pictures, and Sue and I had to pose! We both felt hot and tired.

After walking for an hour, we saw a waterfall, a lake, and a pond was connected to the waterfall. It was beautiful. There were also some rocks around the pond, and the terrain was perfect! Since Sue and I were hot, we asked our parents if we could play in the water to cool down. They said no.

Sue really wanted to go in the water, so she asked me a favor. She told me her plan and I agreed. I told our parents that I thought I lost something, and asked them to help me find it. They agreed and told Sue to help. After walking for a while, Sue and I ran as fast as the wind to the waterfall, jumping into the water. It was so refreshing!

Suddenly, I felt something grow out of my back. “Oh no!” I cried. That’s when I realized that I was growing wings! Sue was also growing them, and Mom and Dad were coming back. After a few minutes, my wings finished growing. My parents were shocked and Sue was insanely happy. My wings were white while Sue’s were red. We tried flying and soon we were flying 20 meters off the ground! Mom and Dad immediately called the police and they said they should just let us be. So we flew back home.
